THE PROPOSED INCOME TAX

The Democratic Senators have agreed to offer an income tax amendment to the tariff bill, levying a tax of 3 per cent. on all incomes of $5,000 or more. Such a tax would compel those best able to pay, to contribute to the government's expenses, in proportion to their wealth. It would not seriously hurt their pockets, though it might injure their feelings, for none cling more tightly to their money than do the very wealthy. Except when expended for their own benefit or pleasure, or for their own aggrandizement, a dollar looks as large to the average multi-millionaire as does $10 to the man of but moderate financial condition.

The exodus of the very wealthy from New York when the city undertook to tax their personal property at actual value a few years ago, will not compare in panicky conditions with the rush of the multi-millionaires to place their swollen incomes under cover if the proposed income tax should be levied.

Among those who would be severely hit, would be a considerable number of members of the Senate which is sometimes called the "Millionaire's Club." It can hardly be expected that they will vote for an income tax, however greatly the government may need money. We doubt very much whether any income tax can pass the Senate; certainly, it will not, if of Democratic origin. But the proposition will serve to put the Republican Senators on record.

In the Senate, "sympathy with trusts is no stranger," says the Hartford Courant. Proof of this charge is hardly needed, it stands out monumentally, and never more so than in the pending tariff bill.

It is unpleasant in this American republic to find it necessary, or deemed necessary, to hold back the entire audience at a theatre until President Taft has made his exit, as was done in New York the other night. The reason given is that only thus could his safety be assured. In this reason, cause for American humiliation is found.

The savings banks have succeeded in securing an unfavorable report on the bill transferring their unclaimed deposits to the State. It was understood that some of the banks have tested these deposits in their bank buildings, and that the bill would compel such banks to invest their money in the State. The bill would not have appeared in the General Assembly, had not extravagant expenditures necessitated an increase in the State's revenue.

It is now predicted that the tariff bill will go to the President for approval or disapproval on or about May 25th. If the Democratic Senators were disposed to obstruct its passage, they could, under the Senate rules, prevent final action for several months, but they assert an intention to allow as speedy action as is consistent with a fair revelation of the measure's inconsistencies and wrongs, which are indeed numerous. Industrial resumption is awaiting final action anxiously, not so much on account of rates of duty as of a certainty in rates. There is excellent reason to believe that American industries can care for themselves under any tariff conditions; there are very few infants but many giants among them.

The Judiciary committee has reported unfavorably the bill taking the power of appointing county commissioners from the General Assembly and conferring it upon the people. It had not been seriously expected that the bill would be favorably reported, for the General Assembly clings tightly to all powers in its possession. Yet, the measure is right. It would extend the principle of home rule, by conferring upon the people the power of electing their own county officers. There are as substantial reasons for popular elections of county commissioners as for the choice of sheriffs by the people; the two offices are alike of county interest and importance. Yet no one has suggested that sheriffs should be appointed by the General Assembly.

Wheat Speculator Patten of Corner, the originator of the present "corner" and who is said to have cleared several millions thereby up to date and is likely to gain several more, asserts that his main purpose was to prevent exportation of wheat and to thus estop a shortage as the result of insufficient crops. Really, he hadn't regarded Mr. Patten as a public benefactor, and we are not yet inclined to accept him as such. Government crop reports do not warrant his apparent fear of a shortage; private reports to the contrary may be, and probably are, misleading, by intention. Mr. Patten's apprehensions are doubtless founded rather upon a greed for profit, than upon facts.

In the meantime, bankers are said to be carrying on a profitless business, as one result of Mr. Patten's professed public beneficence. Another result, it is said, will be either an advance in the price of bread or a decrease in the weight of the loaves.

As many times observed, there should be some means of reaching the speculators in the necessities of life and putting a rigid curb upon their greed. The attention of the Federal government has been called to the matter. If President Taft can find or devise an effectively restrictive move, this single achievement will eclipse in real benefit to the people all the "fuss and feathers" of the Roosevelt Administration.

Turkey is at present the danger point of European politics. The so-called "Young Turks," having secured a constitutional government, proceeded to put such alleged reforms into effect as have angered the army and brought about the organization of a so-called Liberal party which, with the aid of the army, has turned the "Young Turks" out and themselves in. It is ever difficult to ascertain Turkish motives, and therefore it may not be true, as stated, that the main cause of the army's dissatisfaction was the order allowing Christians to serve therein instead of paying a heavy tax for exemption.

The present question is whether Turkey is to become liable to such frequent governmental changes as will permit other powers to interfere in its affairs. If so, the long predicted partition of Turkey may be a matter of the comparatively near future.

The Romantic Air of Frisco.

San Francisco is permeated with an air of romance and adventure. No where may one turn without being reminded of the legends that have been woven around the forty-niners and their immediate followers. The names of the streets and of the business blocks, such as Kearney, Sutter, Montgomery, Dupont, Flood, Crocker and Sharon, bring to the mind of the visitor long forgotten stories of riot or adventure and of fortunes whose vastness once excited his wonder or made him incredulous. To read the words that are painted upon the street cars of San Francisco is to be carried back in fancy to the time when the city was peopled only by those who, having turned from all else that men hold dear, had gone in search of fortune and found it. They were about to give up and despair and die of starvation or succumb to the hardships with which human endurance could no longer cope. —Chicago Record-Herald.

Lincoln's Bar Record.

In his twenty-three years at the bar Lincoln has no less than 109 cases before the highest court of Illinois, a record unsurpassed by his contemporaries. He appeared before the United States circuit and district courts with great frequency; he was the most indefatigable attorney on the Eighth circuit and tried more cases than any other member of that bar; he was attorney for the Illinois Central railroad, the greatest corporation in the state and one which doubtless had its choice of legal talent; he was also counsel for the Rock Island railroad and other corporations and individuals with important legal interests at stake, he was sought as legal arbitrator in the great corporation litigations of Illinois, and he tried some of the most notable cases recorded in the courts of that state. —Frederick Trevor Hill in Century.

Mental Poise and Health.

People who reach extreme old age are, as a rule, pretty well balanced physically and mentally. A poised life is serene, and serenity and harmony tend to longevity. The mind that is not well balanced is constantly jangled and out of tune. There is a constant jarring which racks the whole human machinery. There is discord in an unbalanced life, and discord is always destructive—deadly. The well poised, dignified life is not thrown off its center quickly. The man who goes all to pieces over trifles is one sided. There is a momentum in a poised, balanced nature which steadies its progress and helps hold it on its chosen track. Hot temper, constant mental confusion and disorder are vitality sappers—life shorteners. —Success Magazine.

The Natural Way.

A philanthropic person heard of a negro family that was reported in destitute circumstances and, calling at their domicile, he found the report true. The family consisted of the mother, a son nearing manhood's estate and two young children. The benevolent old gentleman after hearing the mother's story gave her eldest son $1 to get a chicken for the Thanksgiving dinner and took his departure. No sooner was he gone than the negro said to her son, "Sambo, you done gib me dat dollah and go get dat chicken in de natchral way." —Chicago Inter Ocean.

Odd Graveyard Inscriptions.

At Worcester, England, the slab erected over a departed antioneer is inscribed with a single word, "Gone." In Sussex the initials and date of the death of the deceased are followed by two words, "He was." The most remarkable inscription is at Cane Hill cemetery, Belfast, where the inscription says, "Left till called for."

Piling It On.

"Our minister does have the hardest luck. Just think, the baby's down with the croup, Albert broke his collar bone last week, their horse died yesterday, and now Mrs. Rector has pneumonia." "I suppose that by and by, on top of all that, some fool will get them up a denation party." —Woman's Home Companion.

A Prod.

"It is a great mistake, Mabel, to trifle with the affections of a man who loves you by encouraging some one else."

"Well, he's a little slow, auntie. I think he needs a pacemaker."

War to the Knife.

Glady—Shall you marry Jack if I refuse him? Maud—Yes, and if you accept him!

STRATFORD

Local Sickness—Returning — Job on Birds—A Unique School—Growing Peaches—Excellent Roads—Looking for Farms—Moving.

Something like 150 ladies and gentlemen attended the session of the "Old Hickory School" Wednesday evening at the hall of the Red Men. This is considered a very good audience when the state of the weather is called to mind. The entertainment proved to be of more than usual interest.

Quite a number of children in town are ill with the measles, scarlet fever and diphtheria.

Mrs. Frank Pulling has been entertaining Mrs. Frederick Wolfram of Bridgeport.

Mrs. Frank Egert is home from a visit to Meriden.

Miss Frances Russell has not as yet resumed her duties at the library, which is being very efficiently conducted by Miss Lovell.

There is a report that a row of detached cottages will be built this spring on Johnson avenue by Mr. Gus Johnson.

Our local Mandolin Club gave the dance music for the last St. James' minstrel.

Ellen, the 3 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franz Soderquist, died on Wednesday and was buried this afternoon.

A man named Godlove Hildebrand has been brought before Judge Peck, charged with non-support and abusing his wife. He lives on Hollister Heights.

People who have recently returned to town include Mr. and Mrs. Edward Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Curtis from New York, Mr. James Butler, Howard Beers, Miss Annie E. Watt from New York, Mr. and Mrs. Williams of Derby, Mrs. J. C. B. Reynolds from Boston, Mr. William Clements and Mrs. Andrew Hughes from Sag Harbor, and a number of others.

The play called the "Old Hickory School" is doing well in this town. The boys were wigs and striped stockings and some sang solos. Of course the professor's head was bald, and he played the piano.

As could be out of doors there was a stock of fun inside. It is said that all the boys and girls made a hit, and it was as popular as the "Old Maid's Convention."

A good many changes are taking place in town in the matter of men who are employed in various lines of business. No one seems to be quite content and all are seeking some more congenial employment. It is said that Mr. Allen Judson is doing well in his new line of business and that the new milk route established by Mr. George O. Lines is doing a good business.

Died of Blood Poisoning.

Albert Jennings died at the Norwalk hospital, Wednesday, from an infected head, where he was injured a week or two ago. It was understood that Mr. Jennings ran a nail into his scalp and from this the infection developed.

Motor Truck on Farm.

A three-ton gasoline motor truck as a fast vehicle in place of the ordinary horse wagon is unusual, to say the least. One good example of the practical use of the motor truck in farming is afforded by Conyers Manor, at Greenwich. Conyers Manor is a great farm operated on a commercial basis. It represents 1,300 acres of reclaimed land and is the home of C. Converse. The principal work of the Packard truck is in running back and forth between the farm and town.

The special motor truck garage which has been erected at Conyers Manor has been for the accommodation of four three-ton trucks.

No New District.

From present indications the bill setting the town of Darien in Fairfield County apart as a separate probate district is a dead proposition. According to the apportionment now in vogue, Darien is in the Stamford probate district, and New Canaan in the Norwalk district.

Will Have More Water.

At a special meeting of the city of Norwalk, Tuesday night, it was voted to build a new reservoir, with concrete dam construction, at a cost of $70,000. The vote was practically unanimous, and it is expected that bids will be secured and the work started in a few weeks.

Burglars Frightened Away.

Thieves attempted to break into the Brooks cottage at Cedar Gate, Darien, Friday night, but were frightened off before they secured any booty. They left behind, in fact, quite a valuable asset in the shape of a bicycle. This was turned over to the Darien police but it is hardly anticipated that the owner will call for it. Mr. Brooks
